General Terms and Conditions

Access to the Bitfocus Training Service (the "Service"), including any courses or materials accessed through the Service (collectively, the "Content"), is limited to licensed users. When purchasing a subscription to the Service, Bitfocus grants you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to access Content and through the Service on a streaming-only basis for that purpose throughout the subscription term. No right, title, or interest transfers to you except for the preceding limited license. You agree not to use the Service for public performances. Bitfocus may revoke your license at any time at its sole discretion. Upon revocation, you must promptly destroy all Content downloaded or otherwise obtained through the Service, as well as copies of such materials.
